Recovery Complications Checklist

Mental health recovery is an ongoing process—there's no quick fix or finish line. You'll likely face challenges in recovering from your mental health condition(s), but there are actions you can take when hurdles arise.

The following checklist includes a variety of complications that you might encounter during your recovery journey. Use it as a self-assessment to check in with yourself or to guide a conversation with your providers or care partners. Keep in mind that change is inevitable during recovery – if you've experienced some of the following but it isn't negatively impacting your life, it may not be something you need to address.

Physical challenges

Sexual

- \Box Increased sex drive
- \Box Decreased sex drive
- \Box Erectile dysfunction
- \Box Vaginal dryness
- \square Pain / discomfort during sex
- \square Difficulty with ejaculation / orgasm

Weight

- \square Significant or rapid weight gain
- \Box Significant or rapid weight loss
- □ Difficulty maintaining a steady weight

Digestive and gut health

- □ Increased appetite
- \Box Decreased appetite

- □ Nausea
- □ Stomach pain
- □ Constipation
- □ Diarrhea

Sleep

- \square Sleeping more than usual
- \square Sleeping less than usual
- \Box Trouble falling asleep
- \square Trouble staying asleep / waking up multiple times each night
- \Box Trouble waking up
- \square Extreme tiredness during the day
- \Box Vivid dreams (hard to tell from reality)

Movement

□ Restless leg syndrome (uncomfortable sensations in and overpowering urge to move legs)?

 \Box Tardive dyskinesia?

□ Involuntary body movements (e.g., rocking / jerking, arching backward, head nodding, irregular breathing)

□ Involuntary extremity movements (piano / guitar-playing fingers, wriggling, tapping, sustained posture)

 \square Akathisia (the need to move, get up, and march in place)

□ Involuntary facial movements (e.g., rapid blinking, chewing motions, grimacing, smacking lips, making sucking motions with mouth, sticking out tongue, probing tongue around mouth)

Emotional and support challenges

Motivation

- \square Feeling hopeless or discouraged about recovery as a possibility
- \square Feeling unmotivated to put in effort needed to heal / recover

Grief and loss

- \square Missing parts of your pre-recovery self
- \square Missing your old lifestyle and habits
- \square Missing friends who aren't healthy for you to be around
- \square Feeling unable to participate in pre-recovery activities or social groups

Loneliness and social support

- \Box Feeling alone in your experiences
- \square Lack of support from family / home
- \Box Lack of support from friends
- \square Lack of support from partner
- \square Lack of support from school / workplace
- \square Lack of support from other community important to you
- \square Strained relationship with caregiver or others close to you

Lifestyle challenges

- \Box Trouble with dietary restrictions
- \square Struggling at work, in need of workplace accommodations
- \square Struggling to reduce or quit alcohol / substance use as coping method
- \square Struggling to fill time without use of previous (harmful) coping methods

Treatment challenges

- \square Don't trust or feel heard by provider
- \Box Unable to find provider of shared identity (e.g., race, gender, sexuality, religion, etc.)
- $\hfill\square$ Unable to find provider who understands cultural components of your lifestyle, mental health, and recovery
- \square Discouraged by trial and error with medication
- \square Lack of telehealth access and / or computer skills
- \Box Difficulty getting to appointments
- \Box Difficulty finding time for appointments
- □ Treatment cost

□ Insurance complications download or print completed form